SHARPENING A PENCIL.

In This Act, It Is Said, You May Read a Man's Character.

No woman should marry a man till she has seen him sharpen a lead pencil. She can tell by the way he does it whether he is suited to her or not. Here are a few infallible rules for her guidance in the matter:

The man who holds the point toward him and close up against his shirt front is slow and likes to have secrets. He is the kind of man who when the dearest girl in the world finds out that there are "others" and asks him who they are and what he means by calling on them will assume an air of excessive dignity.

The man who holds the pencil out at arm's length and whittles away at it, hit or miss, is impulsive, jolly, good natured and generous.

He who leaves a blunt point is dull and plodding and will never amount to much. He is really good hearted, but finds his chief pleasure in the commonplace things of life.

He who sharpens his pencil an inch or more from the point is high strung and imaginative and subject to exuberant flights of fancy. He will always be seeking to mount upward and accomplish things in the higher regions of business and art, and his wife's greatest trouble will be to hold him down to earth and prevent his flying off altogether on a tangent.

The man who sharpens his pencil all around smoothly and evenly, as though it were planed off in an automatic sharpener, is systematic and slow to anger, but he is so undeviating from a fixed principle that he would drive a woman with a sensitive temperament to distraction in less than six months. On the contrary, he who jumps in and leaves the sharpened wood as jagged as saw teeth around the top has a nasty temper and will spank the baby on the slightest provocation. There are certain women who can manage that kind of man beautifully, however, and if he gets a wife with a calm, persuasive eye he will come down from his high horse in a few minutes and be as meek as a lamb.

The man who doesn't stop to polish the point of lead once the wood is cut away has a streak of coarseness in his nature.

He who shaves off the lead till the point is like a needle is refined, delicate and sensitive. He will not be likely to accomplish so much as his more common brother, but he will never shock you and is without doubt a good man to tie to.—New York Press.

A NOBLE ENEMY.

The Fate of Mokrani, a Moslem Chief of Africa.

France was never in greater danger of losing her colonies in Africa than during the war with Germany in 1870. The troops were recalled from Africa to take part in the conflict that was going on against France, and Algeria was left almost defenseless.

The hour for which the conquered races had long waited had come, and if a holy war had been proclaimed it is probable that the French would have been driven from northern Africa.

But the tribes did not rise while the French had their hands full on the other side of the Mediterranean, and the fact was due to their fidelity to a solemn pledge.

When the war broke out a chief of great influence among the tribes, Mokrani, gave his word to the governor general of Algeria that there should be no insurrection while the war lasted. That word was faithfully kept. Disaster after disaster followed the French arms. The defeats of the war culminated in the surrender of Paris. But not a man of the tribes of Kabylia stirred. The Moslem's faith was plighted; the Moslem's faith was kept.

When, however, the last battle had been fought and the treaty of peace signed, Mokrani, then released from his word, gave the governor general notice that in forty-eight hours he would declare war. The French armies, released from duty at home, hurried across the Mediterranean. The end was inevitable. Mokrani, seeing that all was lost, put himself at the head of his warriors and fell fighting in the front rank. The French erected a monument to mark the spot where their noble enemy perished.

Where He Was.

"To what do you attribute your good health and remarkably robust condition?"

"To regular habits and early retiring."

"Then you have been so situated that you could carry out these excellent rules for the preservation of the health?"

"Oh, yes. I was in the Illinois penitentiary for twenty-three years."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Disinterested.

"What a splendid woman she is!"

"I am glad to think you have got such a wife."

"Such a wife! Why, man, you have no idea of her generosity. When I was poor she refused to marry me because she was afraid of being a burden upon me, but the moment I came into my fortune she consented at once." What do you think of that for kindness?".

Exciting.

Percy—I am tired of this life of ease. I want a life of toil, danger, excitement and adventure!

"Oh, this is so sudden! But you may ask papa."—Life.

Not Exhausted.

She—Henry, I'm going to give you a piece of my mind. He—I thought I'd had it all.—New York Press.

Those who always creep are the only ones that never fall.

HIRAM, KING OF TYRE.

The Phoenician Monarch and His Effort to Imitate the Deity.

Hiram, the Phoenician monarch, strove to imitate God by erecting four mighty pillars upon which he caused seven heavens—apartments—to be built. The first was constructed of glass, 500 by 500 yards, storing therein mock images of the sun, moon and stars. The second compartment of iron, 1,000 by 1,000 yards, was the receptacle of precious stones, causing a terrific noise resembling thunder when they crashed against each other and the casement of the inclosure. The third chamber was of lead, 1,500 by 1,500 yards. The fourth was of tin, 2,000 by 2,000 yards. The fifth was of copper, 2,500 by 2,500 yards. The sixth was of silver, 3,000 by 3,000 yards. The seventh was of gold, 3,500 by 3,500 yards, containing precious stones, pearls and a magnificent throne. A channel of water separated the apartments.

Hiram, imitating the royal splendor of the court of King Solomon, surrounded himself by the grandest conceivable display of magnificence. In the seventh apartment was stationed a golden bed, the corners of which were set in pearls without value in all the world, sparkling forth beautiful flashes resembling lightning, which spread wonder and terror among his subjects.

The prophet Ezekiel was ordered to appear before Hiram, who, at a loss as to how to reach the seven heavens wherein the monarch presided, was transported into his castle by the locks of his hair. Upon perceiving the divine messenger Hiram trembled. "Who art thou?" thundered the indignant harbinger of future events. "Why dost thou boast? Art thou not born of woman's womb?"

"I am," replied Hiram, "but I live forever. Like God dwelling over waters, dwell I. Like him reigning over seven heavens, I rule in seven apartments. As God is surrounded by lightning and thunder, so am I. God has stars in heaven; so have I. Many sovereigns have succumbed to mortality, and I still exist. Twenty-one kings of the house of Israel and David, twenty prophets and ten high priests have departed this earth, but I outlive them all."

"Why dost thou boast?" again demanded Ezekiel.

"Because thou didst supply the cedars for Solomon's temple? This puts me in mind of a subject who prepared a splendid garment for his sovereign, and as soon as the servant gazed at the glorious piece of work he boastingly remarked, 'This is my manufacture,' until the king, observing his vanity, tore it off in disgust. Such will be thy lot. The temple which thou helpest to build will be destroyed. What will then become of thy pride?"

Where They Have Time to Be Polite.

Copenhagen, Denmark, is a city of canals and cleanliness—a land of pure delight, free from beggars, organ grinders and stray dogs. The inhabitants thereof are born courteous and seem never to have recovered from the habit.

When a passenger boards a car in Copenhagen he exchanges greetings with the conductor. A gentleman on leaving the car usually lifts his hat in acknowledgment of a salute from that official. When a fare is paid the conductor drops it into his cash box, thanks the passenger and gives him a little paper receipt.

He offers change with a preliminary "Be so good," and the passenger accepts with thanks. If, in addition, transfers are required complimentary exchanges go on indefinitely. Yet there is always time enough in Copenhagen.—Caroline Dowett in Four Track News.

Scotland and Whisky.

"One of the grossest misconceptions from which Scotland suffers," says a writer, "is that her national drink is and always has been whisky. But this is just as untrue, neither more nor less, as that the national garb of Scotland is the kilt. Whisky, like the kilt, is a purely Celtic or highland product, and up to the middle of the eighteenth century it was just as unfamiliar in the lowlands as the clan tartans. It was only after the '45 that the highlanders began to settle in the lowlands and bring their whisky with them, but before that the national drink of the lowlanders had been ale. Tam-o'-Shanter and Souter Johnny got 'roarin' fou' not on whisky, but on strong beer."

The Fates.

Fable teaches that the fates were three goddesses, holding, one a spindle, another a distaff and the third a pair of shears. They spun the thread of human life, then cut it off, and men's destiny was either happy or unhappy according to the texture of the wool employed by these inexorable deities. Might it not be said that here below we play more or less the part of the fates? It is we who, in some degree, mold our own destinies.—Pittsburg Press.

Another Shock.

"Yes," said the waiter, "this cafe is thoroughly up to date. We cook by electricity."

"Is that so?" said the guest, pointing to a platter. "Then will you please give that beefsteak another shock?"—Detroit Free Press.

Shavings.

"By the great cackle!" clucked the old hen, as she cuddled down upon the thirteen eggs, "this nest is made of excelsior. No doubt about it, this is going to be a shaving set."—Watson's Magazine.

'Tis not necessity, but opinion, that makes men miserable, and when we come to be fancy sick there's no cure.

The Irish Bull In Journalism.

Of a well known reporter of a past generation many curiosities of style are still repeated with zest by Dublin journalists. It was this man who explained, describing a case of drowning off Dalkey, "The body was washed ashore by a receding wave." Of a fugitive from justice he wrote: "The burglar was surrounded on all sides by the police. Escape was impossible. Suddenly he made his way down a cul-de-sac and disappeared through a side street." The most popular story of this impressionist writer, however, relates to Mr. Gladstone. On the Grand Old Man's one and only visit to Dublin he was interviewed by the eccentric press man. Mr. Gladstone, at the conclusion of a somewhat amusing array of questions, very courteously expressed his pleasure at meeting the interviewer. The latter, in a high state of delight, said with enthusiasm, "The pleasure is mutual, Mr. Gladstone, but is all on my side."—London Tribune.

The Oldest Sense of Humor.

The oldest idea of humor is surprise This the child exhibits (for that which is oldest we shall find in the youngest) when it hides and cries "Boo!" both surprising and frightening its senior, be this senior father, mother, brother, sister or friend. One may find this primal sense of humor distributed through the modern short story. Frequently the turn in the plot, if not in its development, hinges upon this child humor of surprise. Even some grownup folk will pull a chair from under one, thus showing themselves still children in their sense of fun. The verbal conceit found in much of the verse in the pages of modern comic papers is of this same class of humor and furnishes conclusive evidence that a number of men and women are at child's play in literature. Poems which end contrary to their foreshadowings are of this sort. —New York Herald.

A Curious Custom.

In certain parts of India in families where there are several daughters the youngest sisters may only marry after the elder sister is married. Of course it frequently happens that no suitor appears for the elder, in which case she is got out of the way by a very neat expedient. She is wedded to a tree or a large flower, and then the younger sister may marry. The elder sister must be careful, however, to choose a plum, apple or apricot tree, from which she can get a divorce, for if she married an elm, pine or poplar these are sacred trees and must not be trifled with.

His Wig In His Pocket.

Benjamin Franklin once wore his wig in his pocket at the court of Versailles. When he was about to present himself at the court for the first time he was informed that a wig was essential. Franklin's head was so large that no ordinary wig would begin to fit it. However, one was found sufficiently large to pass him through the antechambers, after which he was permitted to remove the ridiculous conventional appendage and place it in his ample pocket.

Hard to Please.

Mr. Snaggs was accosted on the street the other day by a beggar who was covered with a very remarkable mass of patched and ragged garments and who said:

"Mister, haven't you some old clothes you could give a fellow?"

Snaggs surveyed the beggar from head to foot and then asked:

"Are not the clothes you have on old enough for you?"

Discriminating.

A thoughtful hostess gave a children's party and decided it would be healthier to serve only mineral waters.

One little girl tasted of her carbonic and laid the glass down.

"What's the matter, dear? Don't you like charged water?"

"No, ma'am. Please may I have some water that you've paid for?"—Life.

Cures Woman's Weaknesses.

We refer to that boon to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. John Fyfe one of the Editorial Staff of THE ECLECTIC MEDICAL REVIEW says of Unicorn root (Helonias Dioica) which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription":

"A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator * * * makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system." He continues: "In Helonias we have a medicament which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent." Dr. Fyfe further says: "The following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unicorn root). Pain or aching in the back, with leucorrhœa; atonic (weak) conditions of the reproductive organs of women, mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women; constant sensation of heat in the region of the kidneys; menorrhagia (flooding, due to a weakened condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhœa (suppressed by absent monthly periods, arising from or accompanying an abnormal condition of the digestive organs and anæmic (thin blood) habit; dragging sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen."

If more or less of the above symptoms are present, no invalid woman can do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, one of the leading ingredients of which is Unicorn root, or Helonias, and the "medical properties of which it most faithfully represents.

Of Golden Seal root, another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says:

"It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb. In all catarrhal conditions * * and general enfeeblement, it is useful."

Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, says of Golden Seal root:

"In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states."

Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal:

"Valuable in uterine hemorrhage, menorrhagia (flooding) and congestive dysmenorrhœa (painful menstruation)."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents all the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

Congressman McKinlay And the People of the Second District.

THE date of the McKinlay meeting in this place has been changed to this (Saturday) evening. This will be a rare treat to our people as Congressman McKinlay has a national reputation as an orator. Aside from this it must not be forgotten that he is our representative in Washington and will have much to say that will interest the farmers of Sonoma Valley. Congressman McKinlay has accomplished much for the people the past two years and in the matter of legislation has been found voting for the people of his district regardless of the politics of any particular section. Take for instance Colusa and Glenn counties, both banner Democratic strongholds. Through his influence in Washington he has given those counties irrigation legislation that will gain him hundreds of votes for his fealty to the interests of their people, who admire him for his persistent efforts to save their farms by means of the appropriations he secured for them to be applied to an irrigation system for those drouth-ridden counties. So it has been right along on these lines. Duncan McKinlay has been a Congressman of the people and for the people during his two years incumbency, and it is to the interest of every voter in the district, if we except the politicians, to vote for him for another term as he will yield a great influence in Washington in the future and that influence will be used to the advantage of the people of the Second Congressional District.

Gillett, Gilett, I really fret,
As on your dream I ponder.
For it is said in cold black lead
That o'er the State you'll wander,
To ask the people what they want,
And give them what they ask.
Gillett, Gillett, man alive,
You certainly have a task.
You'd have to have a sack as big
As our old Santa Claus,
And hand out everything from jobs
To good luck rabbit paws.
You'd have to have a magic lamp
To produce all the goods
To satisfy the people
From the Bay to Humboldt's woods.
Some would want automobiles,
Or anti-liquor Acts;
Some ask for womans' suffrage,
And some for seal-skin sacques.
When you had gone from place to place,
And then at length would visit
The institutions of the State
To learn each one's requisite.
The asylum gates you'd finally reach,
And there, too, you'd request
What you could do for those in charge.
That would quite please them best.
Now, wouldn't it surprise you some,
If they would say "just stay here, chum."
Yet that might be your fate Gillett,
If you'd say what? to all you met.

A CHEMIST of Florence declares that dirt is all right. The only kind concerning which we agree with him is filthy lucre.

SANTA ROSA ITEMS

The funeral of the late ex-Senator E. C. Hinshaw took place Thursday morning from the family residence in this city and was attended by a large gathering of relatives and friends from different sections of the country.

Paul Coulter youngest son of Squire Coulter, has been summonrd from Tamalpah because of the illness of his father. The continued critical illness of the well-known citizen causes the family and friends great apprehension. It is believed that the good man is in the shadow.

H. L. Tripp, Roscoe Donahue, George F. King, K. Robinson, McKee & Clark, R. B. Allen, E. E. Morrow, O. Fountain, Mrs. Mary E. Carithers, Wm. R. Carithers and the Sonoma Fruit and Produce Company have received settlements of insurance from the Austin Insurance Company of Austin, Texas. The settlements were made Wednesday by F. A. Hancock, secretary of the company.

Survey to be Hurried

Engineer J. E. Graham of the Southern Pacific Railroad Co., passed through this city Monday by special train bound for Willits, says the Santa Rosa Press Democrat, and with him was a large surveyor's gang with full field and camp equipment, and the work of running the lines from Sherwood north towards the Eureka road will be rushed. This means the construction of a continuous line from San Francisco to the county seat of Humboldt county.

Suicide

P. H. Lawler, an old resident of Petaluma, committed suicide in that city Wednesday with carbolic acid.

FOR BOTH

One disease of thinness in children is scrofula; in adults, consumption. Both have poor blood; both need more fat. These diseases thrive on leanness. Fat is the best means of overcoming them; cod liver oil makes the best and healthiest fat and is the easiest and most effective form of cod liver oil. Here's a natural order of things that shows why Scott's Emulsion is of so much value in all cases of scrofula and consumption. More fat, more weight, more nourishment, that's why.

Wm. F. Wines.

Wm F. Wines, the Democratic nominee for Tax Collector of Sonoma county, was in town last Saturday. Mr. Wines has many friends down this way who were glad to meet him. For the past five years he has been Sheriff Grace's under sheriff, and as such has had charge of the tax collecting and much of his other office business. He is eminently qualified for the office of Tax Collector, as he is thoroughly conversant with its every detail. The office of Tax Collector ought to be taken out of politics altogether, to the end that the qualifications of the man instead of his party affiliations be the stepping stone to serving the taxpayers in so important a matter.

Dr. F. H. Phillips, not having as yet gained a residence in the county, has had his name taken off the Republican ticket as the nominee for Assemblyman of the Sixteenth district, and another nominee has taken his place.

Danger From The Plague.

There's grave danger from the plague of Coughs and Colds that are so prevalent, unless you take Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, Coughs and Colds. Mrs. Geo. Walls, of Forest City, Me., writes: "It's a Godsend to people living in climates where coughs and colds prevail. I find it quickly ends them. It prevents Pneumonia, cures LaGrippe, gives wonderful relief in Asthma and Hay Fever, and makes weak lungs strong enough to ward off consumption, coughs and colds. 50c and $100. Guaranteed by L. S. NOLAN'S $10,000 LIBEL SUIT DISMISSED Plaintiff Decides Not to Prosecute Dr. Byron and that Matter is at an End.

The libel suit instituted in the Superior Court of this county several months ago by Walter Nolan, principal of the Sonoma Grammar School, against Dr. A. E. Byron for $10,000 damages, has been dismissed.

The stipulation filed in the Superior Court last Tuesday reads as follows:

"It is hereby stipulated and agreed that the above entitled action be and the same is hereby dismissed, without cost or charge of any kind to either party and all privileges under the undertaking on file are waived.

"J. A. Barham, W. F. Cowan and F. Sprague, attorneys for plaintiff. Clarence F. Lee, attorney for defendant.

The Naval Academy.

The class of 1907 of our Naval Academy has some unique features. It is the largest class in the history of the academy, commencing with 313 members. At the close of the third year, June 1st last, all of the midshipmen who had made eighty per cent or more were given a special course of study in place of the regular three-months cruise and one month vacation. This special course was to give in three months the essence of the regular eight months semester and was necessarily strenuous.

The eighty per cent. men were graduated September 12th, nearly eight months in advance of the regular time. The remainder of the class will be graduated in February and June next. Of the original 313 of the class of '07 there were eighty-six midshipmen whose marks equaled or exceeded eighty per cent for the three previous years. It is unusual that nearly one-fourth of a class should make a record of eighty per cent. They will enter the active duties of young officers higher in rank than the less eighty-per-cent men of their own class.

It is no empty honer to have been able to thus graduate in advance of the majority of their classmates and it is likely that when they receive their commissions as Lieutenants it will be a year in advance of the February section and two years ahead of the June section.

After a well earned vacation these past midshipmen will be assigned to the various ships of our Navy. Among the eighty per cent graduates is our young townsman, George W. Kenyon, the adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Allen.

Destructive Grass Fire

A grass fire broke out on the county road near Vineburg last Wednesday evening at about 5.30 o'clock, and quickly communicated to the Nelson, Bates and Potter ranches. On the Nelson place a quantity of hay was destroyed and the fire consumed considerable fencing on the Bates ranch. The Potter place escaped with the loss of some dry pasturage. The loss will not be less than $100. A large force of fire fighters from near-by ranches turned out and by plowing around the fire and back-firing prevented the spread of the flames.

For State Senator.

Walter F. Price, the Republican nominee for State Senator in this the Eighth District, is engaged in making a thorough canvass of the county and it goes without saying that he can "get around some." Mr. Price is one of the most popular Republicans in Sonoma county and the strongest man his party could have placed before the people for senatorial honors, and as a United States Senator is to be selected by the next Legislature to succeed Senator Perkins, every Republican should vote for him.

OCTOBER MEETING OF THE CITY TRUSTEES.

F. T. Duhring Appointed Health Officer and H. W. Gottenberg Recorder Other Matters

The City Trustees met in regular monthly session last Wednesday evening, a full board being present.

The minutes of the last meeting and the adjourned and special meetings having been read and approved the following bills were allowed and ordered paid:

H. Mumfrey, repairs	$ 1 50
Sonoma Valley Co., lights	35 00
W. W. Fowler, labor	2 00
H. Castagnasso, sprinkling streets and hauling	80 50
J. H. Albertson, salary, etc	18 00
H. Pooler cleaning fire apprs	9 00
Joseph B. Small, making assessment	50 00
F. T. Duhring, sewer pipe	80 50
Clark & Son, " "	63 14
Total	$3 8 14

A communication from a number of citizens was read asking that a certain nuisance be abated The matter was referred to the Health Board.

The office of Health Officer was declared vacant and F. T. Duhring was then appointed vice Dr. Nichols, who has gone away.

The bond of Porcella & Carrara, retail liquor dealers, was approved.

A warrant for $750 was ordered drawn on City Treasurer Burris in favor of City Clerk Small in payment of part principal and interest on the New City Hall bonds.

The contract with the Sonoma Valley company for lighting the streets was continued for another month.

H. W. Gottenberg was elected City Recorder, vice Wm. Rambo, resigned.

The Board then adjourned without taking any action in regard to the completion of the New City Hall, which matter will be brought up at a special meeting which will be called by the president of the Board some time next week.

Jack Smith for Sheriff.

Jack Smith, the Republican nominee for Sheriff of Sonoma county, is known to almost everybody north of San Francisco as the genial conductor on the main line of the California Northwestern railway. His election is a foregone conclusion, as his opponent has quit. However that may be, Jack is engaged in making an active and expensive campaign of the county and is renewing old acquaintanships and making new ones. He is hustling around some and if the Democrats have a dark horse to swap in the middle of the stream they may trot him out, but they will find that Smith's nag will land him an easy winner in the Sheriff's office.

Valdez Gets Twelve Years.

Judge Seawell on Monday last sentenced Louis West, alias Frank Valdez, to serve twelve years in the Folsom state prison for burglarizing the residence of Enrico Eralde in the rear of the Star saloon in this place a few weeks ago. After his arrest it was thought the man might be crazy, but it later developed that he was a natural born thief.

REGISTRATION OF VOTERS HAS CLOSED.

Shows an Increase of 715 Voters in the County—Total Registration 10,971.

County Clerk Fred L. Wright and his force of efficient deputies throughout the county, who have been engaged in registering the voters the past few months, completed their labors last Saturday.

The figures furnished us by County Clerk Wright show a total registration of 10,971 as against 10,256 in 1904, a gain of 715 in the county.

Of these Sonoma shows a gain of 37 and Glen Ellen 2. San Luis precinct, however, shows a loss of 20 voters since the last election.

The registration in these precincts is as follows: Sonoma 255; San Luis, 160; Glen Ellen, 193.

EL VERANO.

By Occasional

Mrs. Phil Rossi was shopping in Sonoma Wednesday.

Peter Forni's Helvetia Hotel is receiving a new coat of paint.

Louis La Motte of El Verano Villa visited the county seat Wednesday.

V. L. Harvey, formerly station agent here, is now in the real estate business in Oakland.

A large number of our people will attend the Congressman McKinlay meeting in Sonoma Saturday night.

J. J. Johnson, manager of the Nordwell ranch, has been busy the past week hauling grapes to the Bulotti winery in Sonoma.

A. D. Graham, our efficient road overseer, was in Santa Rosa the fore part of the week on business connected with road matters.

Quite a number of summer visitors continue to linger at our resorts and crowds come up every Saturday evening to stay over Sunday.

The south-bound Southern Pacific train from Santa Rosa and way stations passed through here Wednesday afternoon crowded with passengers.

Mike Mullen, the hustling S. P. station agent here, reports busy times in and around the depot. The volume of freight business handled by him and his assistants the past month far exceeds that of all previous months.

Toutsey Serres, who engaged in a friendly tussle with August Henaume, several months ago, in which the latter's jaw was unfortunately broken, was tried in Judge Gibson's court at Glen Ellen, on Friday of last week, and convicted of simple assault. On Tuesday his honor fined young Serres, who is still in his teens, $10.

Supervisor Blair Hart, who recently secured an appropriation from the county for a new iron bridge at El Verano crossing of Sonoma creek, will not be able to have the much-needed structure built before the winter rains set in owing to the obstruction tactics of the Maxwells, who have refused to sell to the county a forty-foot strip of land for an approach to the bridge on the east side of the creek. Condemnation proceedings will now be necessary to secure the land which means a long and vexatious delay in the construction of the bridge.

OCCASIONAL.

El Verano, Oct. 4th, 1906.

Fierce Norther.

A fierce norther set in here last Wednesday night and continued without cessation all day Thursday and Friday fore noon when old Boreas subsided somewhat. The hot wind dried things up with amazing rapidity and made it mighty uncomfortable for our people. After it had it had subsided they felt as though they had passed through a bake oven or that place the scriptures tell us about.

EDITOR INDEX-TRIBUNE—

Dear Sir:

In another paper, last week, Mr. Carl Dresel, in discussing the Nolan case, uses this language: "The petition handed to the school board asking Nolan's dismissal was signed by some good names, two-thirds of the names, however, are of Italians, many of whom have been but a short time in this country, and who have been grossly imposed upon," etc.

This paragraph, it seems to me, should not go unchallenged. It breathes the spirit of bigotry and intolerance. It is the spirit of the baron and the over-lord. It is the old spirit of the patrician against the plebs. It is the spirit of oppression that was slain and buried in the eighteenth century. Exhume it if you will. Repeat over it what incantations and mummeries you choose. There is no man or set of men who can ever put the breath of life into its withered carcass on American soil.

The citizen coming from the Tiber or the Arno has just the same privileges as he who comes from the Rhine or the Moselle.

If these Italians are ignorant, some of them, is it not to their credit that they are giving to their children all the education that their means will allow?

I am very sorry that the numerous exonerations of Nolan have failed to give general public confidence in him or to give general approval of the action of the School Board.

Garden Party at Agua Caliente Well Patronized

The garden party given by Mr. and Mrs. Theodor Richards of the Agua Caliente Springs Hotel, last Saturday evening, was largely attended and liberally patronized. Quite a neat little sum of money was realized by Mr. and Mrs Richards, which has been turned over to the good Sisters of Presentation Convent, than whom no one is more deserving.

Mr. and Mrs. Richards in giving up their fine grounds and tendering their services Saturday night is in keeping with their thoughtfulness and generosity on former occasions.

The McKinlay Meeting at Union Hall To-Night

Everybody, and particularly the Republicans, in the Sonoma valley should turn out to-night and accord Congressman McKinlay a rousing meeting and a right royal reception. His address will be followed by others. The Sonoma Valley Band has been engaged to add to the attractions of the meeting, which will wind up with a social hop. Everybody will be made welcome.

WORSHIP OF SPRINGS.

How It Prevailed Among Early Peoples In the Southwest.

Springs are rarely found in the southwestern part of the United States, and for this reason they have been from ancient times prized as a most valued possession. The people who dwelt in this region, says Walter Hough in "Records of the Past," saw in these sources of life giving water the founts of continuance and well being, and near them they located their pueblos. Save air, no elements of nature are nearer to human life than those confined into the primitive fluid which must always be within reach of men who put themselves into the grasp of the desert. The primary knowledge of the tribes who were the pioneers and of every human being who has since made his home in the great American desert was complete as to the location, distribution and idosyncrasies of the water supply.

Spring water is naturally more prized by the inhabitants of those desert solitudes than that from living streams, because it is always drinkable and always at hand, while the watercourses, which for the greater part of the year are sinuous reaches of dry sand, furnish at flood a quickly disappearing supply of thinned mud which will not be touched by man or beast except in the distress of thirst.

One is not surprised, therefore, that a primitive people will regard these springs as sacred. In fact, the Indians of the southwest are not peculiar in the worship of springs. The sentiment is worldwide, has had a vast range of time, perpetuates itself in the folklore of the highest civilizations and presents in its manifestations a most interesting body of myth and fancy. But in the southwest the arid environment has so intensified this feature of primitive culture that no spring in the region is without evidence of many offerings to the deities of water.

It is small wonder then that the Pueblo Indians came to regard springs with special veneration; that they wove around them myth and tradition and made them objects of religious worship. To one acquainted with the environment and its radical needs this seems to have been a natural, even though unconscious, generalization. Perhaps offerings to springs will not admit of such simple explanation. Perhaps the mystery of the underground source of water welling up from unknown depths, impressive always even to the observer who believes himself free from the trammels of superstition, has also had a powerful effect on the mind of the Indian, leading, like many other natural phenomena, to an attitude of worship of unseen powers behind these masks.—New York Tribune.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

What happy lives farmers lead—in story books.

Never judge a man by the opinion he has of himself.

A dozen men may make a club, but one woman can make a home.

When a man borrows trouble he puts up his peace of mind as collateral.

Men and women should look during courtship and overlook after marriage.

Happiness has a peculiar way of appearing and disappearing unexpectedly.

It's an easy matter to sympathize with the poor when your pockets are empty.

Try to be agreeable. There are too many disagreeable people in the world as it is.

It's so hard for some men to save money when single that they don't think it worth while trying after they marry.

What a man and his wife say to their guests and what they say about them after their departure are different, quite different.—Chicago News.

Wisdom of the Ancients.

To the ancients for wisdom! Dr. Pinches at the University college in London brought out in a lecture some advice of general interest given by a certain little known king of the Assyrians. On one of the monuments in the British museum is the following inscription: "The eggs of an owl given for three days in wine bring on a drunkard's weariness. The dried lung of sheep taken beforehand drives away drunkenness. The ashes of a swallow's beak ground up with myrrh and sprinkled in the wine which is drunk will make secure from drunkenness. Horus, king of the Assyrians, found this out." The convivial monarch did not drink in vain if he "found these things out."

Putting Out a Fire.

When trying to put out a fire remember that one gallon of water at the bottom of the blaze will do more to put it out than ten gallons at the top. "Play low" is the motto to follow while fighting fire. A few gallons at the bottom of the flames will rise in clouds of steam when the fire is rising and quench it. A big blaze on the leeward side looks fearful, but play low with the water on the bottom of the fire on the windward side and you have the speediest way to quench the flames and will not require a river.

Rough on the Count.

Lord Freelunch—Ah, count, did you make a favorable impression on the father of the heiress? Count Broken—Favorable! Why, when I told him I was looking for his daughter's hand he said he thought I was looking for a handout.—Chicago News.

Perfectly Secure.

An old farmer once excused himself for sleeping under the rector's sermons by observing, "Lor', sir, when you are in the pulpit we know it is all right!"—London Standard.

THOUGHTLESS TRAPPERS.

Torture to Animals and Ruthless Destruction of Game.

People who have not seen can form no idea of the suffering trappers cause nor of their ruthless destruction of game. Nothing escapes them. Even the squirrels are sacrificed to bait traps for marten and fisher, and not only the squirrels, but all kinds of birds, whether game or song birds.

In trapping mink, otter, beaver and a few other fur bearing animals the trap is nearly always set near the water, where the animal when caught can drown itself, thus ending its suffering.

But with bear, marten and fisher it is different. The bear must drag a heavy clog about until it catches in some root or bush. There he must wait until the trapper comes to kill him, and this in some cases is not for days. The bones of the leg are almost invariably broken by the trap, and the leg swells to incredible size. One trapper in one day shot nineteen large blue grouse merely to try a new rifle. The birds were nesting. He had no use for them, and not one did he even bring to camp.

Years ago in British Columbia an old trapper camped near our bear hunting party. He shot everything he could find, even little ducks and marmots. A goat he killed fell over a cliff, and as it was harder to recover it than to shoot another he shot another. He was trapping beaver out of season and boasted of having caught one that was about to become a mother.

I have seen the spot where a bear fast in a trap had been caught for more than a week in a thicket through which it was impossible to drag the trap and clog. I once knew an old French trapper who shot seventy-three moose and elk in one winter for bear bait for the spring catch. I asked why he killed so many. He said that he wanted a big stink in the spring so as to bring the bears around. All of the animals he had slaughtered for a spring stink were shot with a revolver, for they were snow bound and could not escape. He told me that he dropped five big elk in one pile. This frightful destruction by trappers has exterminated the game.—World's Work.

STOMACH TROUBLES.

Mrs. Sue Martin, an old and highly respected resident of Faisonia, Miss., was sick with stomach trouble for more than six months. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets cured her. She says: "I can now eat anything I want and am the proudest woman in the world to find such a good medicine."

Good Ladies' Horse.

"You told me he was a good ladies' horse," angrily said the man who had made the purchase.

"He was," replied the deacon. "My wife owned him, and she's one of the best women I ever knew."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Winners.

"Did your husband ever bet on a winning horse?"

"Oh, yes," answered young Mrs. Torkins. "All the horses Charley bets on win at some time or another."—Washington Star.

Honesty sometimes keeps a man from growing rich and civility from being witty.—Selden.

CAUTION!

Persons when traveling should exercise care in the use of drinking water. As a safeguard it is urged that every traveler secure a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy before leaving home, to be carried in the hand luggage. This may prevent distressing sickness and annoying delay.

After Long Years.

After long years work is visible. In agriculture you cannot see the growth. Pass that country two months after, and there is a difference. We acquire firmness and experience incessantly. Every action, every word, every meal, is part of our trial and our discipline. We are ripening or else blighting. We are not conscious of those changes which go on quietly and gradually in the soul. We only count the shocks in our journey. Ambitions die; grace grows as life goes on.—Frederick W. Robertson.

LEST WE

forget Baby is restless, can't sleep at night, won't eat, cries spasmodically. A bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge never fails to cure. Every mother should give her baby White's Cream Vermifuge. So many times when the baby is pale and fretful the mother does not know what to do. A bottle of this medicine would bring color to his cheeks and laughter to his eyes. Give it a trial.

Use For Spoiled Beer.

"There is no need," said a brewer "for us to throw away beer that has turned sour, for is there any need for us to try to doctor it up. We have a ready sale for our spoiled beer among cement makers. Don't think from this that cement makers have a morbid taste for sour beer. Nothing of the kind. They use this beer in making cement for leather joints. It takes the place of acid, being cheaper and yet just as good."

JULIUS CÆSAR

was a man of nerve, but sickness left its mark and he became aged before his time. Sickness is often caused by a torpid liver. Herbine will regulate your liver and give you health. Miss Carrie Austin, Hollon, Kansas, writes: "I consider Herbine the best medicine I ever heard of. I am never without it." Sold at Simmons' Drug Store.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Don't save your money and starve your mind.

Vigorous thought must come from a fresh brain.

Tens of thousands of people fail because they love their ease too much.

"Keeping alive that spirit of youth," Stevenson used to say, was "the perennial spring of all the mental faculties."

A man may build a palace, but he can never make of it a home. The spirituality and love of a woman alone can accomplish this.

If we are contented to unfold the life within according to the pattern given us we shall reach the highest end of which we are capable.

By proper training the depressing emotions can be practically eliminated from life and the good emotions rendered permanently dominant.

Every time you crowd into the memory what you do not expect it to retain you weaken its powers and you lose your authority to command its services.—Success.

John Wesley and Beau Nash.

In a book about Bath is set forth a story about John Wesley. Beau Nash had told Wesley that his preaching in the street was not only contrary to law, but it "frightened people out of their wits."

"Sir," said Wesley, "did you ever hear me preach?"

"No," said the master of ceremonies.

"How then can you judge of what you never heard?"

"By common report," said Nash stoutly.

"Common report is not enough. Give me leave, sir, to ask, Is not your name Nash?"

"My name is Nash."

"Sir," said Wesley, "I dare not judge of you by common report."

WOUNDS, BRUISES AND BURNS

By applying an antiseptic dressing to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, they may be healed without maturation and in about one-third the time required by the old treatment. This is the greatest discovery an triumph of modern surgery. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is anti-septic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness and prevents any danger of blood poisoning. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering such injuries entail.

Not Buried Yet.

"There has never been any decisive action on that bill you introduce year after year."

"No," answered the statesman. "That bill has been of such value in giving me prominence that I should rather regret to see it removed from active controversy and buried in the statute books."—Washington Star.

His Exact Meaning.

Foods That Make You Fat.

Potatoes, peas, baked beans, fats, sweets—such as puddings, pies and cake—ale, beer, sweet wines and even water, when taken with meals, all conduce to obesity. But in lieu of the foregoing fatty producers one may satisfy hunger with a moderate amount of lean meats, poultry, fish with fruits (excepting figs, dates and bananas) and with vegetables, such as spinach, string beans, eggplant, celery, beets, etc. I would recommend also that those overfat from eating rich and too generous diet abstain from much liquid at meals, but that they drink copiously of water between meals to flush their systems. Water, be it remembered, is an excellent purgative.—C. E. Pot Flint in Outing.

NOTHING TO FEAR

The question of injurious substances in medicines which has been agitating the minds of many people, does not concern those who use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mothers need have no hesitancy in continuing to give it to their little ones, as it contains absolutely nothing injurious. This remedy is not only perfectly safe to give small children, but is a medicine of great worth and merit. It has a world-wide reputation for its cures of coughs, colds and croup and can always be relied upon.

Shadeless Forests.

Large tracts of dense forests in Australia are practically shadeless. Many kinds of trees in that strange country turn their edges instead of the flat surface of the leaves to the sun, and thus one may stand under a tree of enormous size and be as fully exposed to the sun as though he were in the open plain. Travel through these forests is said to be exceedingly arduous work, as the trees, while they do not cut off the sun, prevent the breeze from reaching the ground, and thus the traveler experiences a stifling heat.

A MOST WORTHY ARTICLE.

When an article has been off the market for years and gains friends every year, it is safe to call this medicine a worthy one. Such is Ballard's Horehound Syrup. It positively cures coughs and all pulmonary diseases. One of the best known merchants in Mobile, Ala., says: "For five years my family has not been troubled with the winter coughs; we owe this to Ballard's Horehound Syrup. I know it has saved my children from many sick spells."

Look out for that "rainy day!"

It comes sooner or later for so many—we can't tell to-day who may want on the morrow.

Prepare now while you are able for any misfortune that may overtake you. Don't run any risks.

Here is something that will help you provide for the rainy day—an investment that carries with it unusual benefits and proves its value from the minute you buy the stock.

Smith's Cash Store is well and favorably known all over the West. Its reputation is of the best and in volume of business it is making tremendous strides forward every year. Some five years ago the stock was selling for $5.00 a share. Today the price is $10.00 a share. These figures demonstrate what a thriving institution is this biggest Mail Order House on the Pacific Coast.

Each share of stock is guaranteed to earn 6 per cent a year. But the greatest benefit is derived by the stockholder from the discounts given to the holders of five or more shares of stock. You can buy anything to eat, use or wear at the same price the goods would cost your local dealers. We call them "Owner's Prices."

Suppose you buy goods that altogether cost $50 at our wholesale rate. If you are a stockholder you get a discount amounting to $2.50, and your bill is only $47.50. The saving you will make in one year in addition to the earnings will in all probability more than cover the investment.

Year after year you will be effecting big savings. But should hard times knock at your door—and you must not be too sure that something of that sort will not happen—think what it will mean to you to be able to buy everything at cost prices. It might be the very thing that would help you to survive the period of distress.

We are increasing the amount of our capital stock. We are telling you about the stock because we think you ought to invest for your own sake. You couldn't buy stock in any other concern that would suit you so well.

It will not be long before the price of the stock is advanced. You know that means there are not many days remaining in which you can take advantage of this great offer.

For your convenience we are printing a coupon which you ought to fill out—it does not obligate you in any way. Send it at once.
